While there is simply no fault to be found with this wine's nicely layered aromas of sweet oak and ripe black cherries, they are surpassed in richness, range and depth by the deeply filled, pure fruit flavors that follow. Very well-balanced and absolutely velvety in feel, the wine builds and builds to a long and energetic finish. It is thoroughly enjoyable now, but we suspect that it will, with another two or three years in bottle reveal even more.    $39.00
